Daily Temperature Monitoring

Late afternoon on March 18, Governor DeWine offered a directive to all businesses to take the temperature of every employee every day, starting immediately.

If you do not have thermometers on site, you may consider reaching out to your team. Ask if anyone has a contactless thermometer (no ear or under tongue) and if they are willing to bring them to the office. Make note of each employee's brand and style of thermometer and offer to reimburse for any lost or missing thermometers.
